This 1967 photograph by Columbus Dispatch photographer Thom Rocky was taken just after another renovation to upgrade Pierce Field's playground equipment. Students are crowded on a "Dome Whirl" which would not meet modern safety standards! The Dome Whirl was located near the northeast corner of Oxley and First Avenues. It was removed from the playground over 25 years ago.

President's Letter

Dear Fellow Bobcats:

This will be my last letter as your president. I pass the baton to Tom Smith '63 on August 15th. I have thoroughly enjoyed my time as president. We rotate presidents every few years to give others the opportunity to serve and to keep fresh ideas flowing. I will remain on the board to provide institutional continuity and I will always serve the GHHSAA any way I can.

Your alumni association has had a very good start to the 2012-2013 year. We awarded five scholarships at the GHHS Class of 2012 Scholarship Assembly: two $2,500 general scholarships, the $2,500 Carol Sue Herd Greenisen '55 Scholarship and two $1,000 Brotherhood of Rooks Educational Fund scholarships. These scholarships were among the largest given by any local organization. Information about the winners can be found in this newsletter.

The Grandview Heights school system retains its excellent reputation. The State of Ohio is changing its rating system for next year. In the past many systems, including ours, were rated "Excellent with Distinction". This will change to a letter system and be much tougher. The Columbus Dispatch recently listed what the new rating would be using current data and Grandview Heights was the highest-rated system in the entire Columbus metropolitan area!

Once again, the Memorial Day Parade was a success. We hope that new graduates will join us next year. We had one current student, a scholarship winner, join us this year.

A few of our members have indicated that they plan to make a bequest to the GHHSAA. To make the process simple and to fully recognize the generosity of such donors, we are establishing a Legacy Society this year and we'll soon share the details. Funds from bequests will be used solely for scholarships and not for operating expenses. We hope that our endowment fund with the Columbus Foundation will continue to grow. The cost of a college education continues to increase and our scholarships certainly help GHHS graduates. We hope to give more and larger awards in the future.

Annual dues reminders will soon be mailed. Your voluntary dues are the lifeblood of the good work this association is able to accomplish. Please donate if you are able and inclined.

You can also help us keep expenses in check by opting to receive your newsletter by email. To opt-in for email delivery, contact Tom Smith '63 at bbrow34@columbus.rr.com. While you're at it, welcome him to his new position as association president!

It has been my pleasure to serve you.

Sincerely,
Ron Harris '56

REMEMBER WHEN?

KINDERGARTEN RIDE

Submitted by Tom Barnes '62, now residing in Spring Grove, Florida

While reading the article about Mrs. Pope by Tom Smith, I recalled how I traveled to kindergarten. I was in the first group of kids that attended the new kindergarten on Fairview Avenue when it opened in 1950. My parents only had one car which my dad used to get to work. My mom decided that I might be able to ride the city bus. One day, she took me to the bus stop at the northeast corner of First Avenue and Oxley Road and showed me how to get on, pay the fare and watch for my stop at Fairview Avenue. The cost of a ride at that time was 5 cents. The kindergarten was 200 yards north of that intersection. My teacher was Mrs. Bloom and I had a crush on her.

After meeting Mrs. Bloom for the first time, my mom and I walked back to First Avenue so that she could show me where to catch the bus for the ride home. The stop was across the street and one block away at Broadview Avenue. That meant that I had to cross First Avenue and walk a block – a daunting task for a five year old. My mom was confident that I could do it each day. After all, it was 1950 and Grandview was a very safe place to live. Still is, I trust.

Each day, I would take two nickels from the stack that my dad maintained on the bottom shelf of the china cupboard in the dining room. I never had to ask him for any nickels. They were always there. And, I fondly recall having a yellow raincoat and boots that I wore when it rained. Sometimes, as I walked to the bus stop, I saw Mrs. Pope driving down Oxley and stopping to pick up one of the kids that she transported.

The bus driver was usually the same man each day and he allowed me to stand next to him, holding onto the rail that came up from the steps. I'd get on, say hello, drop my nickel into the long, glass collection box and wait to watch him pull the handle that allowed the fare to drop into the lower box. I'd hang onto the metal hand rail and look out the front of the bus as we made our way west. Some days there was a different driver who would not allow me to stand next to the collection box. He insisted that I sit on one of the seats and I always chose a seat on the right side of the bus so that I could see when the bus was approaching my stop.

At least one time, I lost the second nickel while at school, but didn't tell anyone. I decided to walk back home. A long distance for my short legs, but I made it. There was one occasion when I couldn't get across First and down to Broadview in time to catch the bus. The bus driver recognized me, saw that I was trying to get to the Broadview stop and pulled to the curb in mid-block to let me get onboard. I never forgot his kindness and I wish I knew the man's name because I'd love to have thanked him when I was older.

Three years later, my sister, Lana, rode the bus to kindergarten, too. The mother of one of Lana's classmates, Nancy Dixon, learned of Lana's riding the bus and decided to teach Nancy to do it, too. Lana and Nancy became close friends as a result of that experience.

Grandview Schools Kindergarten Annex, 1950, Fairview and First. Built in 1950 across from the Edison Elementary School on the site of the old Harding School building, the annex was an award-winning design that incorporated furniture and facilities that were built to the needs of the kindergarten student. Door handles were lower, furniture was smaller, lockers were kid-sized, etc.

It also had a fully equipped kitchen, and everything was done in "cheerful" colors and styles that were attractive to kids of this age. All of these photos were from a feature story in Ohio Schools magazine, and were also part of a photo spread in the Columbus Citizen Journal.

News from the Class of 1947

Members of GHHS Class of 1947 held their 65th year reunion June 22 and 23 including dinner at the Knotty Pine Saturday night. Several classmates, spouses and a few guests were in attendance. A great time was had by all. A 66th class reunion is possible for next year. Any suggestions?

We contributed to the "Auditorium Seat Project" – part of the GHHS Auditorium Restoration program. We sponsored 4 seats with a plaque naming the donors and deceased members of their class. The names below are included on the donor plaque which hangs in the hall outside the auditorium. Spouses are listed in parenthesis.

Alumni Extraordinaire

Robert McNabb '45, known to his friends as "Nero", has contributed a substantial gift to the GHHSAA to benefit the Brotherhood of Rooks Scholarship Fund. Reflecting upon his life's experiences he wrote, "I consider my four years at GHHS as the most critical years of my life. Easily drawn to mischief and laziness, I began high school in almost a wayward fashion. Ultimately, the responsibilities that were presented by becoming a member of B of R had its effect upon me. The Rooks offered a path that, to me, seemed moral and they expected something from their members. It was probably the first time in my life that I was made to feel responsible. I owe them. I would hope that if my challenge is accepted, that there are others who will generate that same feeling and understand what is inside my heart that requires me to act."

Following high school, Bob served a stint in the US Navy. He remembers, "When I entered the Navy, three of my GHHS classmates and six pals from Arlington stayed together through Boot Camp. The same thing occurred with a number of our other classmates who entered the Army. What prompted my enlistment in late April, 1945, were the deaths of President Franklin Roosevelt (April 12, 1945) and war newsman Ernie Pyle (April 18, 1945) and the resulting shock of their deaths," he said. "It seemed to persuade my father to agree to sign the needed approval because I had not reached my 18th birthday. Within three months of our leaving Grandview, the Pacific War was over. It was our good fortune that we would not be killed or injured in action."

Bob entered The Ohio State University and graduated with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in 1956. Aptitude tests suggested he go into 'insurance' and "luckily" he began a career with Nationwide, a company that provided the "training necessary to succeed".

In 1957, he was hired as a Special Agent by Hartford. He was hired by Safeco in 1961 and ultimately became Branch Manager of their San Diego office.

He moved from insurance company ranks to an insurance brokerage in 1975 and specialized in commercial accounts. This work allowed him to cultivate business clients who often needed coverage programs beyond what had previously been provided. He worked in a California business environment that was quickly evolving because of insurance innovators. It seemed to be a good climate for him. He also busied himself in volunteer work, including Volunteers in Probation and The Crime Victims Fund, both of which originated in the San Diego area.

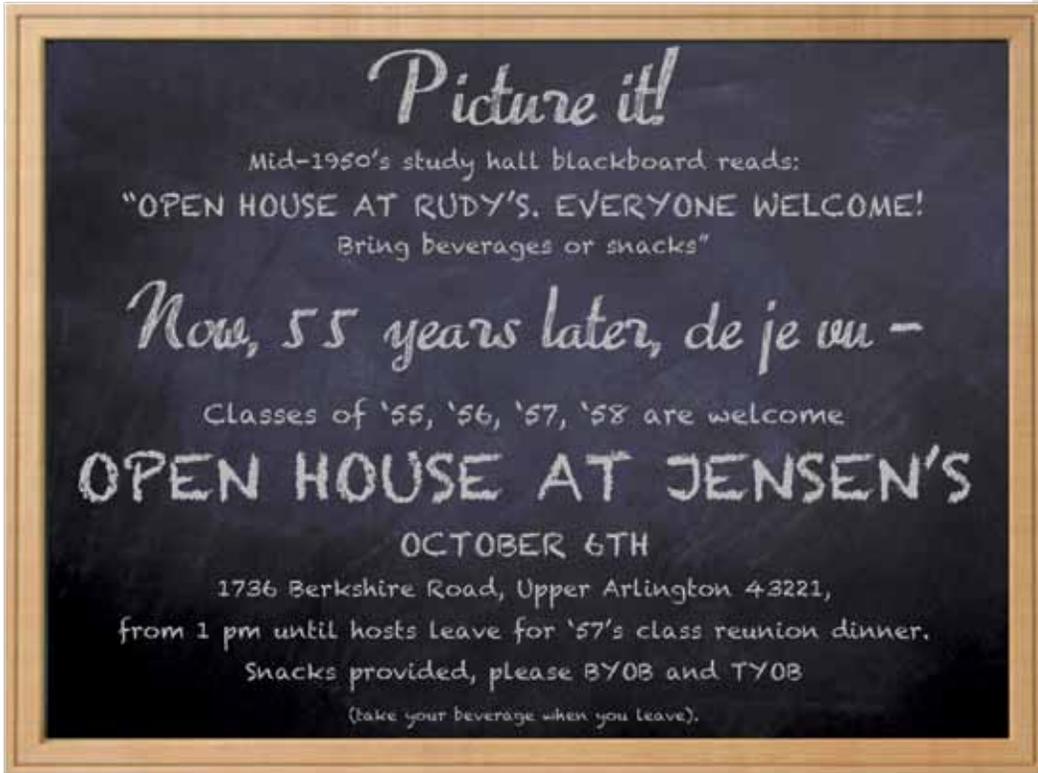

Bob married Columbus native Jane Kennedy while in college. They have two sons. Jane died just prior to their 50th wedding anniversary. He remarried in 2000 and Annie and he continue the passions that first brought them together: French food and travel. A fine arts major in college, Bob always loved to visit world-class art galleries. Embarking on extended trips to Europe was possible thanks to qualified staff that covered him at his office, but it always was a balancing act. As he approached normal retirement age, he decided that he loved that "balancing act" and so continued working until age 80.

Bob developed a love of cooking. He and Annie are both in reasonably good health and while they've reduced their travel schedule, they enjoy going out to dine. Every Friday is movie day followed by their happy hour. They often joke that it's still daylight when arriving home from happy hour.

Nero remembered in a note recently, "The Grandview community itself was a solid middle class area where most families owned their homes. There were large church memberships throughout the community. When our class of 1945 held its last reunion, the principal of GHHS addressed us and commented upon how the community continued to draw families who wanted their children to attend Grandview schools. That's so comforting to an old alum."

We thank Bob for his generous donation. He joins the ranks of Charles Penzone '63 and Marlese Neher Ghouda '48 who also provided "above and beyond" substantial financial gifts to the GHHSAA.

1923 Football Game Tickets

These 86 years old football tickets are from the 1923 Grandview High School season. They were preprinted by the student athletic booster association and attached to the wearer by a string. The opponent's name was penciled in before the game.

Cover of the football program from the November 8, 1946 Central Buckeye League Championship game between Arlington and Grandview. Both schools were undefeated (Grandview held teams scoreless in 4 of the 9 games this year, and in the remaining games only one team scored more than one touchdown) and were playing their 21st consecutive game since their first match up in 1926. Of the 20 preceding games the Bobcats won 9, the Bears 8, and 3 games ended in scoreless ties. The Bobcats had won the championship the year before but unfortunately lost this particular game to Arlington 13 to 6.
